

I've been working in the film business for over 25 years. I am passionate about the craft and the people who make it possible. The SDSA has always been a place of connection, support, and inspiration, and I would love the chance to give back by serving on the board.

My focus would be mentoring new decorators, giving back to the communities in need, celebrating the artistry of our work and making sure our voices are recognized across the industry. I believe in collaboration, community, and keeping our craft strong for the future.
